The University of Missouri

In the course of its history, the University of Missouri has committed itself to: teaching since its founding in 1839 as the first public university west of the Mississippi River; research as part of the land-grant mandate in the late 1800s; extension services since the early 1900s; and most recently economic development.

Mizzou is one of only 38 public U.S. universities and the only public institution in the state to be selected for membership in the Association of American Universities. Membership, which recognizes excellence in teaching and research endeavors, includes only the nation's top-tier institutions.

The origin of the university can be traced to a clause in the federal Act of 1820, which admitted Missouri to the Union. The act authorized the sale of two tracts of public land with the proceeds earmarked "for the use of a seminary of learning." The land was sold in the 1830s, and sentiment mounted for the establishment of a university. By 1839 the fund amounted to about $100,000, and the General Assembly passed two acts that provided for the establishment and location of the University of Missouri. One act specified that the university be built in one of six central counties. The county that offered the greatest inducements in land and money would obtain the university. Boone County won the bid with $117,921.25 in cash plus land, and in 1839 the University of Missouri was founded in the frontier town of Columbia.

Two momentous changes occurred in 1870. Under terms of the Morrill Act, the university was accorded land-grant status, prompting the legislature to authorize a School of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts for Columbia and to open a second campus to house the School of Mines and Metallurgy at Rolla.

Mizzou has schools and colleges in accountancy; agriculture, food and natural resources; arts and science; business; education; engineering; health professions; honors; human environmental sciences; information science and learning technologies; journalism; law; medicine; music; natural resources; nursing; public affairs; social work; veterinary medicine and visual studies.

Mizzou's breadth and depth enables both students and faculty to take an interdisciplinary approach to intellectual inquiry.

The university is a source of pride for all Missourians, setting the standard for higher education in the state and establishing a reputation for excellence known throughout the world.

MIZZOU ALUMNI: NEW PARTNERS IN THE ENTERPRISE

Congratulations and welcome to a lifelong relationship with your alma mater.

Graduates who have preceded you know the importance of the Mizzou experience. You will find that MU is well-regarded by executives of institutions everywhere and that you, as a graduate, will profit by the university's reputation.

To a great extent, the value of your degree depends on how well MU continues its mission of teaching, research, service and economic development. Your goodwill and support are essential to secure its future and the success of students who follow you.

The university is more than its buildings, more than its faculty and more than the students present at any one time. The university consists of all who enter and leave its halls — who are affected by and carry on its pervading principles.

A university and its alumni are inseparable. Graduation day creates a stronger-than-ever bond of mutual interdependence. Your continued interest and concern — and your enthusiastic help beyond today — is important to Mizzou. You are your university.

Schools & Colleges

College of Agriculture, Food and Natural Resources

Includes School of Natural Resources

Christopher R. Daubert, PhD, Vice Chancellor and Dean

The mission of the College of Agriculture, Food and Natural Resources includes quality teaching, cutting-edge research and the extension of that research to the people of Missouri.

From entering freshmen to postdoctoral scientists, students prepare for a range of careers. Professional development through clubs and organizations and interaction with business and industry prepares our graduates to have an impact in the food system, business, government policy, environmental awareness, law, medicine and other areas.

The Missouri Agricultural Experiment Station develops new technology in animal, biochemical, plant, food and natural resource sciences to keep the state's agribusiness system competitive in world markets and to provide consumers with a safe, low-cost food supply.

Technology reaches the people through the college's Agricultural and Natural Resources Extension program. State specialists within the college and area specialists in county centers interact with the public for real-life application of research to solve problems.

Finally, the college helps developing nations become trading partners by improving their economies through better agriculture. This also provides a valuable exchange of knowledge and understanding with students, teachers and scientists from many cultures.

College of Arts and Science

Includes School of Music, the School of Visual Studies and the Harry S Truman School of Public Affairs

Cooper Drury, Dean, PhD

The College of Arts and Science, established in 1841, is the oldest and largest academic division at MU, with approximately 9,000 students and 500 full-time faculty. With 27 departments, Arts and Science offers more than 90 degree programs in the arts and humanities, social and behavioral sciences, and natural and mathematical sciences. The college is also home to several interdisciplinary centers and institutes, two museums, and one literary magazine. A&S students work alongside internationally recognized scientists, scholars, artists, writers, and musicians, and they apply and extend their learning in undergraduate and graduate research projects, study-abroad experiences, internships, and service learning. Our 63,000 living alumni include scientists, government officials, actors, business executives, community activists, astronauts, teachers, and physicians, to name just a few. These alumni—along with our faculty, students, and staff—ensure that the impact of an A&S education extends well beyond our campus borders, including every state in our country and throughout the world.

Robert J. Trulaske, Sr. College of Business

Includes School of Accountancy

Balaji Rajagopalan, PhD, Dean

The Trulaske College Business, founded in 1914, today enrolls nearly 5,000 students. The college has four academic units – accountancy, finance, management and marketing. Offerings include an undergraduate degree in business administration, a full-time MBA and an execMBA for working professionals, a 150-hour program that confers both undergraduate and master's degrees in accountancy, PhD programs in accountancy and business administration and a series of online degree programs.

Students are exposed to relevant concepts, theories and techniques applied to real-world operations of private and public enterprises. With a commitment to professional development, the college hosts opportunities for students to gain practical insights through internships, field projects, guest speakers and executives-in-residence. In addition to teaching students, the college's faculty members conduct and publish research on significant, timely issues and engage in wide-ranging service on campus, in their disciplines and in the business community.

The college contributes to MU's economic development mission by preparing the next generation of executives, accounting professionals, entrepreneurs and business leaders. The college takes great pride in its graduates and highly-ranked programs. More than 35,000 alumni are contributing their expertise to the public and private sectors in every state in the U.S. and in a host of foreign countries.

College of Education & Human Development

Includes School of Information Science and Learning Technologies

T. Chris Riley-Tillman, PhD, Dean

The University of Missouri College of Education & Human Development (Mizzou CEHD) prepares and supports professionals in education, information, lifespan, and intervention sciences that improve the quality of life and economic development for the people of Missouri, the nation and the world.

The bachelor of science in education degree leads to certification to teach at the early childhood, elementary, middle or secondary levels in Missouri, as well as many other states. The bachelor of science degree helps graduates prepare for diverse careers working with children, adults, and families. The bachelor of educational studies degree specializes learning in education, technology-based learning, leadership, and organizational change, without certification.

In addition to undergraduate degrees, Mizzou CEHD also offers graduate study leading to master's, educational specialist and doctoral degrees. Mizzou CEHD serves the state through research studies, continuing education, and a variety of services to state and local agencies.

---

College of Engineering

Praveen Edara, PhD, Interim Dean

When engineering classes at the University of Missouri began in 1849, a strong tradition was born that continues to grow. At the University of Missouri College of Engineering, we believe that with every innovation we make and every new development we bring to light, we do more than solve the problems of today. Here, we ready the leaders who will blaze forward with a revolution that defines the world for tomorrow. At Mizzou Engineering, collaboration, creativity and research surge together. Where others may see problems, disease and inefficiencies, we see opportunities, potential and infinite possibilities. We teach, we learn, and we analyze — and we demand innovation, inclusion and integrity as we create smarter, safer, more efficient ways of living.

The college offers fully accredited degree programs in biological, chemical, civil, computer, electrical, industrial and mechanical engineering, along with computer science. All of programs offer both undergraduate and graduate degrees. The college also offers a bachelor's degree in Information Technology. Naval Science is under the academic administration of the college as well. The hallmark of the College of Engineering is excellence in teaching and scholarly pursuits.

Graduate School

Jeni Hart, PhD, Dean of the Graduate School and Vice Provost for Graduate Studies

MU offers an atmosphere encouraging academic inquiry and stimulating intellectual activity fundamental to a superior graduate education. The University of Missouri System is the only state-supported institution in Missouri to offer professional and doctoral degrees. Many of these degrees are available only on the Columbia campus. The Office of Graduate Studies provides administrative and academic support to students and programs from more than 90 departments and areas.

The Office of Graduate Studies is a member of the Association of Graduate Schools and the Council of Graduate Schools. Of 5800 degree-seeking graduate students, 43% are seeking doctoral degrees. The university granted its first master's degree in 1846. The first doctor of philosophy degree was granted in 1899.

College of Health Sciences

Includes School of Social Work

Kristofer Hagglund, PhD, Dean

Missouri's only state-supported school of health professions on a campus with an academic health center is uniquely positioned to educate health care professionals and fulfill its mission of improving the health and well-being of individuals and communities. Every day, College of Health Sciences faculty, staff, and students work towards improving lives through the integration of teaching, research, health care and service.

Graduates join a growing work force of professionals employed in health care, government, nonprofit, sales and research settings. The school's seven majors and sixteen degree-granting programs prepare students for careers in athletic training; clinical laboratory science; diagnostic medical ultrasound; health science; occupational therapy; physical therapy; public health; nuclear medicine; radiography; respiratory therapy; and speech, language & hearing sciences. The College of Health Sciences is home to the only doctoral degree in health & rehabilitation science offered by a public university in Missouri. Graduates of this program are prepared for careers in research, higher education and organizational leadership within health disciplines.

The school provides service and outreach to Columbia and central Missouri as well as student training through the Adult Day Connection, the MU Speech and Hearing Clinic, the MU Robert G. Combs Language Preschool, Neuropsychology and Psychology Services, PhysZOU physical therapy clinic and TigerOT clinical services

School of Journalism

David D. Kurpius, PhD, Dean

MU established the world's first School of Journalism in 1908 to strengthen the role of journalism in democratic societies. Today, the school's international reputation attracts students from nearly all states and more than 30 countries.

Students receive a broad liberal arts education as well as course work and practical training in the skills and responsibilities of journalism and strategic communication through daily performance under deadline pressure. They work under faculty supervision in six professional news outlets and two strategic communication agencies: AdZou, a fee-based full-service agency serving local, regional and national clients; the Columbia Missourian, a digital-first community newspaper; Global Journalist, a weekly radio/video program about international news; KOMU-TV, mid-Missouri's fully commercial NBC affiliate; KBIA-FM, mid-Missouri's NPR member station; Missouri Business Alert, a digital newsroom publishing top business news from across the state, Mojo Ad, a full-service, fee-based agency specializing in the youth/young adult audience for national brands; and Vox, a cross-platform city magazine that publishes a weekly print edition and daily website.

The school's objective is to develop within students an appreciation of the professional journalist's role — to provide society with a basis for understanding and mutual confidence upon which diverse people can find common principles and goals.

School of Law

Paul J. Litton, JD, Dean and R. B. Price Professor of Law

Graduates of the School of Law, established in 1872, serve at the highest levels of local, state and national governments. Law school graduates and faculty members have written the majority of laws that regulate the lives of Missourians. Faculty scholarship has affected legal change at the national, state and local levels. The School of Law is housed in the award-winning, state-of-the-art facility, John K. Hulston Hall. Approximately 85 percent of the school's graduates practice law in Missouri.

The school's faculty develop and refine in each student the basic traits that characterize the good and able lawyer: analytic ability, substantive legal orientation, basic working skills, familiarity with legal institutional context, awareness of nonlegal environments and ethical concern.

The School of Law is a national leader in alternative dispute resolution techniques and boasts the nationally recognized and reputed Center for the Study of Dispute Resolution.

School of Medicine

Richard Barohn, Executive Vice Chancellor for Health Affairs, Hugh E. & Sarah D. Stephenson Dean of the School of Medicine

Established as the first public medical school west of the Mississippi River, the School of Medicine has offered a four-year education program since 1956. The school has a tradition of educating students from rural Missouri, a focal point of the school's mission. The development of the Missouri Telemedicine Network and Mid-Missouri Area Health Education Center in recent years has strengthened MU's service to rural communities by giving students and rural health providers access to groundbreaking programs and technology. As the academic arm of the Health Sciences Center, the school's clinical faculty members provide primary and specialty care for patients from every county of Missouri.

With its innovative patient-based learning curriculum, the school is emerging as a national model for medical education. Students gain early and frequent exposure to clinical cases that enhance their problem-solving skills and help them earn higher than average scores on national licensing examinations. U.S. News & World Report consistently ranks the school's family and community medicine department as one of the top ten in the country.

Sinclair School of Nursing

---

Lori L. Popejoy, PhD, RN, FAAN, Dean

The nursing program began in 1901 with the establishment of Parker Memorial Hospital Training School. Today, the Sinclair School of Nursing is committed to promoting, maintaining, and improving health and health-care delivery in Missouri and worldwide, through nursing education, research, service and economic development. Nursing faculty implement innovations in teaching and offer students hands-on experience in the art and science of nursing. Faculty research is shaping the discipline of nursing and delivery of health care.

The school offers a baccalaureate program that prepares students for the general practice of nursing (including accelerated and RN-BSN options); a master's degree program that prepares nurse leaders and nurse educators; a doctor of nursing practice program that prepares advanced practice nurses and nurses for executive leadership roles; and a PhD program that prepares nurse researchers and scholars for clinical, academic and policy roles. The RN-BSN program and all graduate programs are available online.

College of Veterinary Medicine

---

Leah A. Cohn, DVM, PhD, DAVIM (SAIM), Interim Dean

Missouri's only College of Veterinary Medicine, established in 1946, has educated more than 4,000 veterinarians. They pursue careers in private practice, industry, government, education and the armed services. One hundred and twenty new students are enrolled annually in the vigorous four-year curriculum leading to the doctor of veterinary medicine degree.

After two years of fundamental classroom study, students rotate through hospitals, clinics and laboratories, and receive hands-on training in diagnosis, prevention, treatment and control of diseases in animals.

The college is the state's only complete animal-health facility. Its education, research, patient-care, diagnostic and public information programs support the state's livestock industry, its companion-animal owners and its veterinary medical practitioners.

Academic Regalia

Academic institutions throughout the world have created a variety of customs, including distinctive dress, color and ceremony to indicate the accomplishments of scholars. English traditions originating at Oxford and Cambridge led to the development of American academic regalia. By the 20th century, institutions of higher learning in the United States had adopted a well-defined code of academic costume, which now includes identification of the different academic degrees by distinctive gowns, hoods and colors.

For instance, the baccalaureate gown, generally worn closed, is identified by long, pleated front panels and long, pointed sleeves. The master's and doctoral gowns may be worn open or closed. The master's gown has long sleeves closed at the bottom, and wearers place their arms through an opening in the front of the sleeves. Doctoral gowns are distinguished by velvet panels around the neck and down the front of the gown. On the sleeves are three horizontal velvet bars in black or the colors representing the doctorate.

In the United States, the hood is the most colorful feature of academic regalia. The bachelor's hood, not usually worn, is 3-feet long with a 2-inch-wide velvet edging in a color representing the degree received. The master's hood is 6 inches longer with a 3-inch-wide velvet edging. The doctoral hood, at 4 feet, reaches far down the wearer's back, and is bordered by a 5-inch-wide strip of velvet. The hoods are black on the outside. The lining, which is folded out, bears the official colors of the institution granting the degree. The doctor of philosophy hood from MU has a dark-blue border, for philosophy, with a black-and-gold lining. The border colors represent the degree earned, not the academic major. The doctor of philosophy candidate in engineering, for instance, would wear the dark blue of philosophy on the hood instead of the orange of engineering.

The color of the master's hood, if worn by an MU master's candidate, may represent either the degree earned, such as white for the master of arts or gold yellow for the master of science, or the candidate's academic discipline. Traditionally, candidates at MU choose the color of their hood based on the discipline. A master of science candidate in nursing, for example, would normally wear the apricot of nursing instead of the gold yellow for the master of science degree.

Because most MU faculty members did their graduate work at institutions other than MU, there is a variety of academic attire in today's procession. Some degree holders wear no hood because their academic robe symbolizes the degree awarded, as with the scarlet gown of Oxford University. The official robes worn by members of the University of Missouri System Board of Curators are gold.

The standard cap is the mortarboard, always black. It is the custom at MU for the color of the tassels to indicate undergraduate students' academic majors. Doctoral degree candidates wear gold tassels; master's candidates wear black.

Honorary Degrees

Each year the university recognizes prominent individuals, whether they attended the university or not, by presenting them with honorary degrees.

This year's honorees join the ranks of more than 400 people awarded honorary degrees from MU since 1892. Past honorees include Presidents Harry S Truman and Herbert Hoover; Gens. John Pershing, Omar Bradley and Maxwell Taylor; artist Thomas Hart Benton; author Samuel Clemens (Mark Twain); newsman Walter Cronkite; Sens. Thomas Eagleton, Stuart Symington and James Fulbright; Missouri Govs. Warren Hearnes, Phil Donnelly, Henry Caulfield, John Dalton and Forrest Donnell; poet Marianne Moore; entrepreneur J.C. Penney; author and journalist Carl Rowan; psychologist B.F. Skinner; singer-songwriter Sheryl Crow; Walmart founder Sam Walton; and U.S. Reps. Andrew Young, Clarence Cannon and Martha Wright Griffiths.

Marcia Chatelain

Marcia Chatelain has dedicated her life to telling the stories of others. A historian, scholar and author, Chatelain is renowned for her impactful storytelling and passion for social justice. Chatelain's natural curiosity has resonated with people around the country, earning her a Pulitzer Prize in history and showcasing her as a lifelong learner and teacher.

Originally from Chicago, Illinois, Chatelain's Mizzou journey began when she arrived as a high schooler to participate in a workshop on urban journalism. As an undergraduate student, she was a 2000 Harry S. Truman Scholar and earned a bachelor's degree in journalism and religious studies in 2001. After graduating, Chatelain moved to Washington, D.C. to work as a resident scholar at the Harry S. Truman Scholarship Foundation. Continuing her academic pursuit, she then attended Brown University and earned a doctorate in American civilization.

Throughout her career, Chatelain has been committed to sharing stories of history through academia. She began working at the University of Oklahoma in 2007 and spent four years teaching there as the Reach for Excellence Assistant Professor of Honors and African American Studies before moving to Georgetown University, where she was a Provost's Distinguished Associate Professor of History and African American Studies until 2023. Currently, she is the Penn Presidential Compact Professor of Africana Studies at the University of Pennsylvania.

Some of Chatelain's most notable contributions to scholarship are her books. "South Side Girls: Growing Up in the Great Migration," published in 2015, discusses the experiences of Black women who migrated from the South to Chicago during the early 20th century. Chatelain's Pulitzer Prize-winning book, "Franchise: The Golden Arches in Black America" was published in 2020. It analyzes the post-civil rights era and the rise in popularity of fast food.

Chatelain has also been recognized for her teaching and academic endeavors on several levels. She was given Georgetown University's Dorothy M. Brown Teaching Award in 2014, the Edward Bunn, S.J. Award for Faculty Excellence in 2015 and the College Academic Council's Faculty Award in 2016. She is also a Ford Foundation Postdoctoral Fellow and a New America Eric and Wendy Schmidt Fellow.

Outside of teaching, Chatelain is involved in public dialogue on issues of social justice. She is a sought-after speaker, appearing on various panel discussions, public forums and podcasts.

Whether through her writing, teaching or advocacy, Chatelain continues to represent MU as a shining example of what it means to serve others by telling their stories.

Sarah Leen

Sarah Leen has always had an eye for the out of the ordinary. Earning her bachelor's degree in fine and studio arts in 1974 from the University of Missouri, Leen's passion for visual storytelling was always apparent. As a graduate photojournalism student in the Missouri School of Journalism, Leen became the first female student to win the College Photographer of the Year. She also secured an internship with National Geographic, an opportunity that would shape her career.

After working for a series of newspapers including the Topeka Capital Journal, the Columbia Daily Tribune and the Philadelphia Inquirer, Leen shifted to freelance work — mostly for National Geographic — for nearly two decades. In 2005, she officially joined the magazine as a senior photo editor and made history in 2013 by becoming the first female director of photography for National Geographic Partners.

During her time at National Geographic, Leen produced some of the magazine's most iconic images. Her work graced countless pages of the publication, as she published 16 stories and six covers during her time there. Despite her success, Leen ultimately decided to pursue her true passion: editing photography books. In 2019, she left National Geographic to focus on her work as a photo editor and teacher, a testament to her dedication to sharing the art of photography with others.

Teaching and mentorship have always been essential aspects of Leen's personal mission. She is heavily involved in helping the next generation of photographers, teaching through the Missouri Photo Workshop, the Maine Media Workshop and at Syracuse University. This summer, she will host a workshop in Maine specifically for female photographers and editors, focusing on the challenges and advantages women face in the photography industry.

Leen also extended her call to help aspiring photographers into her own business idea. In 2020, she co-founded the Visual Thinking Collective, a community for independent women interested in visual storytelling. Leen both creates and manages visual projects for photographers and artists through the company.

Leen's contributions to photojournalism have been widely celebrated. She has won several major awards recognizing her photography and photo editing abilities including the International Pictures of the Year competition and the World Press Photo Awards. She was inducted into the Missouri Photojournalism Hall of Fame in 2015.

Currently residing in East Boothbay, Maine, with her husband Bill Marr and their cats Zuzu and Buzzer, Leen continues to inspire and empower others through her passion for photography and dedication to visual storytelling.

Gilbert Ross

Gilbert Ross has dedicated his life to serving others and improving lives. In 1960, he became the first urology resident at the University of Missouri after being handpicked by then-Chief of Urology Ian M. Thompson.

Ross excelled during his residency and joined the university as a faculty member immediately after graduation. He has since spent more than six decades serving in various capacities throughout the MU School of Medicine — solidifying his legacy and pursuing advancements in health care.

Working in conjunction with the Division of Nephrology, Ross helped spearhead MU Health Care's Kidney Transplant Program. In 1972, he orchestrated mid-Missouri's first kidney transplant surgery. He served as the program's principal surgeon and director from 1972-99 and again from 2004-08. Thanks to his efforts and advocacy, more than 1,100 patients have received much-needed organs.

While at MU, Ross also served as chief of the Division of Urology from 1977-98, facilitating the training of generations of medical students and residents. To honor his tireless dedication to advancing medical science, an endowed professorship was named in his honor in 1999.

In addition to his countless contributions to Mizzou, Ross has been an active member of the health care community at large. He was a founding member of the American Society of Transplant Surgeons and served as a member of the Coller Surgical Society and the American Association of Genitourinary Surgeons. He was also named an honorary member of the American Urological Association.

Ross is a past president of the South Central Section of the American Urological Association, the Kansas City Urological Society and the Boone County Medical Society. He has also served on the board of the Midwest Transplant Network, the regional organ procurement agency, since 1974 and was board chair from 1988-90. He remains on the advisory board to this day.

With more than 125 publications to his credit, Ross's intellectual prowess is matched only by his compassionate spirit. A distinguished member of the Jefferson Club and the McAlester Society, he stands as a beacon of inspiration, illuminating the path toward a brighter, healthier future for all.

Don Walsworth

Don Walsworth has dedicated his life to serving Missourians, and his impact has been felt in fields spanning business, entrepreneurship, manufacturing, politics, health care, athletics, philanthropy, community outreach, public service and more. Walsworth, now the chief executive officer of the largest independently owned yearbook company in the world, graduated from the University of Missouri in 1957 with a bachelor's degree in education.

After studying printing management at Carnegie Mellon University, the Marceline, Missouri, native began his career at his family's printing company, Walsworth Inc., in 1957. Ten years later, he became the company's president. Today, Walsworth Inc. is among the 35 largest domestic printing companies and one of the nation's 10 largest book manufactures.

Walsworth's business acumen and entrepreneurial mindset has earned him numerous accolades over the course of his career. In 1975, the Small Business Administration named him Small Businessman of the Year for the Missouri-Kansas region, and in 1982, he was elected president of the National Yearbook Manufacturer's Association. In 2004, Walsworth received the prestigious business honor of Missouri/Kansas Ernst & Young Entrepreneur of the Year for Manufacturing.

Outside of his business career, Walsworth has left his mark in civic life and public service with community outreach efforts in his hometown of Marceline, at MU, and throughout Missouri. He served two terms on the Marceline City Council, one term as mayor, and is a past president of the Marceline Chamber of Commerce.

Walsworth is an active member of the MU Alumni Association and earned the Distinguished Service Award in 1989 — the highest honor granted to an individual by MU. He also has served as a director of the University Medical School Outreach Program, which is responsible for helping place physicians in many rural communities throughout Missouri.

A longtime supporter of Mizzou Athletics, Walsworth has served as chairman of the Champions for Life campaign for Mizzou Athletics, which, to date, has raised more than $120 million. Recently, he and his family contributed $8.5 million to Mizzou Athletics to create a first-class facility for the men's and women's golf teams. The donation brought the total contributions to MU to more than $14 million from the Walsworth family as of 2013.

Former Governor Bob Holden appointed Walsworth to the UM System Board of Curators in 2003. In 2007, he was awarded the prestigious Missourian Award, which is bestowed upon Missourians who have made outstanding contributions to their state in civics, business, arts or politics.

A lifelong philanthropist, Walsworth has donated to his church, the Walsworth Community Center and the Brookfield YMCA. He also has donated land to the North Central Missouri Regional Airport to extend its runway by 1,000 feet.

Through his business expertise and philanthropic efforts, Walsworth continues to represent MU's four core values — respect, responsibility, discovery and excellence — by improving society and giving back to communities.

OLD MISSOURI

Old Missouri, fair Missouri!

Dear Old Varsity,

Ours are hearts that fondly love thee.

Here's a health to thee!

Proud art thou in classic beauty

Of thy noble past.

With thy watchwords, honor, duty,

Thy high fame shall last.

Every student, man and maiden,

Swell the glad refrain,

'Till the breezes, music laden,

Waft it back again.

Proud art thou in classic beauty

Of thy noble past.

With thy watchwords, honor, duty,

Thy high fame shall last.
